HOTEL FIRE AT ALVORD.

The Brown Hotel Burned—Many Narrow Escapes—The Loss $1000.

Special to the Gazette.

ALVORD, WISE COUNTY, TEX., Oct. 7.—The Brown hotel was burned between 3 and 4 o'clock this morning. Loss about $1000. No insurance.

There were about one hundred guests in the hotel at the time of the fire, some of whom were seriously injured, and others made narrow escapes.

A stonemason, engaged on the Hatchett building, had his leg broken in two places by jumping from the second story.

A lady, sleeping on the second floor, threw her baby from the window, which was caught by some one below. The lady then jumped to a shade tree near by and reached the ground safely, neither being hurt. The fire is supposed to have originated by a lamp being overturned through carelessness of some guest. Mr. Brown has moved into the two-story stone building of J. A. Goldman and will continue the hotel business the same as in the past.
